REASONS FOR ALLOWNACE

1. Claims 1-9 are allowed.

Following is the Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The prior art or record specifically Brossman et al (Pub. No. : US 20030123084) fails to suggest or disclose the collective features of the invention such as: "providing a user interface adapted to building a composite print job, wherein the user interface obtains a combining order, and wherein the user interface provides control commands including a start command and an add command, wherein the start command indicates a first segment of the composite print job, and wherein the add command indicates a segment to be added to the composite print job" These features along with the rest of the claim's limitations render the claims 1-9 allowable.
